

I support XM Radio. I have no commercials and a wide variety of music at my convenience no matter where I am, even out in the boonies. If it is my choice to pay for this service, it is my choice. As a matter of fact, my husband keeps taking my car solely so he can listen to XM while on his commute. This allows him too the freedom to listen to whatever he wants without having to change out multiple CDs.

Tootles